2. First Story Exterior: A minimum of fifteen (15) feet setback is required wherever a side yard is adjacent to a street. On lots less than sixty (60) feet wide, the exterior side yard setback may be reduced to twenty-five percent (25%) of the width of the lot. In no case shall the minimum required setback be less than twelve and one-half (12.5) feet or more than fifteen (15) feet. Garages and carports facing an exterior side yard require a twenty (20) foot setback.
3. Upper Stories: For interior setbacks, a minimum of six (6) feet for twenty-five (25) percent of the lot depth or thirty-five (35) feet, whichever is less. Remaining portions of upper stories shall have a minimum setback of one-half ($\frac{1}{2}$) the height of the building face measured at the plateline or ridge beam, whichever is highest. For side yards adjacent to a street, the upper story must meet the first story exterior setback requirements.

If a range of density is permitted, the maximum allowable density in the range is applicable. ~~Where the density allowed under the zoning ordinance is inconsistent with the density allowed under the land use element of the General Plan, the General Plan density shall prevail. However, if there is no applicable dwelling unit per acre standard, the City shall calculate the maximum allowable density as required by State Density Bonus Law. A density bonus applicant may submit a base density study for the City's consideration that meets the requirements of the State Density Bonus Law.~~
 3. "Bonus Units" means additional units granted by the State Density Bonus law. Bonus units may exceed local zoning and General Plan densities.
 4. "Concession or Incentive" means a modification in development standards, zoning code requirements, architectural design requirements, parking requirements, or other concessions or incentives identified in Government Code Section 65915(k) or any successor provision that result in identifiable and actual cost reductions, in order to provide for affordable housing.

 6. "Waiver" means a modification of development standards that would otherwise physically preclude the construction of a development meeting the criteria of this Section at the density permitted under State Density Bonus law or with the concessions and incentives granted under this Section and State Density Bonus Law.

3. Concessions and Incentives. ~~The following~~ concessions and incentives listed below in this subsection (3) are presumed to result in identifiable and actual cost reductions to provide for affordable housing costs. These concessions and incentives may be requested by the applicant and may be considered by the City without additional documentation/financial analysis. Regulatory incentives or concessions not listed below in this subsection (3) that are proposed by the developer shall be granted if the developer demonstrates that the incentives or concessions result in identifiable and actual cost reductions to provide for affordable housing costs.

- a. Building height or building stories.
- b. Rear yard setback.
- c. Lot coverage.
- d. Usable open space.
- e. Floor area.
- f. Parking.
- g. Standards relating to architectural bulk and mass, including upper story step-backs.
- h. Minimum distance between buildings.
- i. Maximum building length.
- j. Duration of permit effectiveness.

~~4. Concessions and Incentives with Financial Analysis. Other regulatory incentives or concessions not listed above which are proposed by the developer that result in identifiable and actual cost reductions to provide for affordable housing costs/rent costs may be granted if the review authority finds all of the following:~~

- ~~a. An actual cost reduction is achieved through the concession or incentive.~~
- ~~b. Evidence demonstrates that the cost reduction allows the builder to provide affordable rents or affordable sales prices.~~

~~c. The developer has provided all information as may be requested by the Community Development Director to ensure that the findings can be made and supported by substantial evidence.~~

5.4. Parking Modifications. The State Density Bonus law provides alternative parking requirements that may potentially be lower than City parking requirements. Parking reductions specified in Government Code Section 65915 are not counted as concessions, incentives, or waivers. However, the applicant may request additional concessions, incentives, or waivers related to parking.

6.5. Denial of Concessions and Incentives. The review authority shall grant a requested concession or incentive unless the review authority makes any of the following findings, in writing and supported by substantial evidence:

- c. The concession or incentive would have an adverse impact on a real property that is listed in the California Register of Historical Resources with no feasible method to satisfactorily avoid or mitigate.
- d. The concession or incentive would be contrary to State or federal law.

G. Waivers. Developers of State Density Bonus eligible projects may seek a waiver of any development standard that would physically preclude the construction of a housing development with the density bonus and incentives for which the applicant is entitled. The applicant shall bear the burden of demonstrating that the development standards that are requested to be waived will have the effect of physically precluding the construction of the housing development with the density bonus and incentives. There is no limit to the number of waivers that can be granted. A request for a waiver must be submitted in writing as part of the application process specified in Section 32.19\(D\) (Submittal Requirements and Review Process). Granted waivers shall be identified by staff in entitlements. The City shall grant a waiver unless the review authority makes any of the following findings in writing and supported by substantial evidence:

- 1. The waiver would have a specific adverse impact, as defined in Government Code Section 65589.5(d)(2), upon health, safety, or the physical environment, and there is no feasible method to satisfactorily mitigate or avoid the specific adverse impact without rendering the development unaffordable to lower and moderate income households.

2. The waiver would have an adverse impact on a real property that is listed in the California Register of Historical Resources with no feasible method to satisfactorily avoid or mitigate.
 3. The development standard for which a waiver is requested would not physically preclude the construction of the housing development with the density bonus and incentives or would otherwise be contrary to State or federal law.
- H. Affordability and Development Standards. All Affordable Housing Units must comply with the standards specified in Section 29.6 (Standards for Affordable Housing).
- I. Commercial Density Bonus.
1. A "commercial density bonus" is a modification of development standards mutually agreed upon by the City and an applicant for a nonresidential development project that is eligible for such a bonus under Government Code 65915.7. Examples of a commercial density bonus include an increase in floor area ratio, increased building height, or reduced parking.
 2. Developer shall enter into an Affordable Housing Plan and Agreement with the City that meets the requirements of Section 29.7 (Affordable Housing Plan and Agreement) and that demonstrates how the developer intends to provide the affordable housing required to qualify for a commercial density bonus under Government Code 65915.7. An Affordable Housing Plan and Agreement under this section may take the form of a "partnered housing agreement." For purposes of this section, a partnered housing agreement is an agreement between the developer, the City, and a third-party housing developer who will provide the affordable units on behalf of the developer.
 3. Any approved housing agreement for a commercial density bonus shall be described in the City's Housing Element annual report as required by Government Code Section 65915.7(k) and shall require the following:
 - a. At least thirty (30) percent of the total units in the housing development project shall be made available at affordable ownership cost or affordable rent for low-income households, or at least fifteen (15) percent of the total units in the housing development project shall be made available at affordable ownership cost or affordable rent for very low-income households.
 - b. The nonresidential development project developer must agree either to directly build the affordable units; donate a site consistent with Section 32.19\(l\)\(4\) for the affordable units; or make a cash payment to the housing developer for the affordable units.
 4. Housing Site. Housing development shall be at the same site as the nonresidential development project or on a site within the City that is within a quarter-mile of the site, or within one-half (½) mile of a major transit stop and is located in close proximity to public amenities, including schools and employment centers.

- 5. Eligibility for State Density Bonus. The housing development project shall remain eligible for any State Density Bonus, incentives, concessions, waivers, or parking modifications for which the housing development project would otherwise be eligible and that are provided by this Section 32.19.

Application for the foregoing density exceptions to zoning district regulations shall be made pursuant to the provisions of Article 46, pertaining to the issuance of planned development permits, and the procedures of said article shall govern the granting of such exceptions.
 - 2. To qualify for this density exception, the Planning Commission must find that:

Conditions imposed hereunder shall be recorded in form approved by the City.
- C. Exclusion. The provisions of this Section are not applicable for residential care facilities, nursing homes, and skilled nursing facilities or if a proposed project is granted a density bonus under Section 32.19 or 32.20.
- D. Effect. Except as to the contrary herein permitted, all other regulations of the zoning district in which a proposed housing project for Senior/Elderly persons is located shall remain in full force and effect.

The screening analysis shall be submitted to Redwood City Community Development Services for review. If the results of the screening analysis indicate thresholds of significance would be exceeded by the project, a quantitative health risk assessment shall be required to identify exposure levels to TACs below those recommended by the BAAQMD.

 - b. Residential Noise Notice. Residents of new residential or mixed-use development projects in the Mixed-Use Corridor Zoning Sub-Districts, whether owners or tenants, shall be notified in writing before taking up residence that they will be living in an urban-type environment and that the noise levels may be higher than a strictly residential area. The covenants, conditions, and restrictions of a residential or mixed-use project shall require that prospective residents acknowledge the receipt of the written noise notification. Signatures shall confirm receipt and understanding of this information.
3. Mixed-Use Development - Specific Regulations. Mixed-Use that is vertically integrated into one (1) building or horizontally integrated on the same site shall comply with the development

 - ii. Changes in use. After approval, a mixed-use building shall not be converted to entirely residential use.

- (3) Manufacturing or industrial activities, including but not limited to welding, machining, or any open flame work.
- (4) Any other activity or use, as determined by the responsible review authority to not be compatible with residential activities and/or to have the possibility of affecting the health or safety of mixed-use development residents due to the potential for the use to create dust, glare, heat, noise, noxious gases, odor, smoke, traffic, vibration or other impacts, or would be hazardous because of materials, processes, products, or wastes.

b. Entrances. When nonresidential and residential uses are located in the same building, separate pedestrian entrances shall be provided for each use. The entrances for nonresidential uses shall be designed to be visually distinct from the entrances for residential uses.

Combining Residential and Commercial Entrances
